

FORGING TOMORROW'S MEN

God moved powerfully on men at the first Forging Tomorrow's Men Event in Dunedin recently. Men responded at a significant level as they involved themselves in the strong theme of being forged by the Master.

Paul from Oamaru described it this way: "Thank you for bringing the glory of God alive in our lives - the Holy Spirit moves through this place as men worship together. Thank you for the refreshing, renewing and re-enforcing!"

Promise Keepers has brought together a robust Event with proven speakers, focused breakouts, manly music and a potent program that genuinely emphasises growth in Christian manhood. We want you to be part of what is happening this year at Forging Tomorrow's Men.

Paul Subritzky says that the theme "Forging Tomorrow's Men" captured the imagination of the more than 400 men who attended the year's first Event in Dunedin.

"One man, Dave, told us that he believes no other Event reaches and ministers to the needs of men like Promise Keepers."

On the Friday night the vision was laid for what the Ultimate Man would look like - in a powerful way that inspired and resonated with men. Pastor Norm McLeod, from House of Breakthrough in the Manawatu, prayed for each of the forty men that responded to the invitation to commit their lives to Christ.

Steve from Winton has attended 12 previous Promise Keepers Events, and this year's is one he will never forget.

"First time I brought my son and he made his commitment to follow Jesus Christ!!!"

Pastor Mike Griffiths from Dunedin's Elim Christian Centre spoke to the very core of an issue confronting men today: their identity - where it comes from and the false identity that many are struggling with.

"This year we are focusing on the heart of the matter - the matter of the heart" explains Mr Subritzky.

Promise Keepers continues to be well supported by local churches, with 42 men from Invercargill Central Baptist winning the annual Men's Group award.

The Event closed with 278 dogtags given out as men were commissioned to fulfil the Great Commission and the Great Commandment.

Great line of speakers that touched my heart and challenged me to renew my relationship with God and grow again spiritually. Chris

I loved the fact that it was raw, real messages. Good to know that we are not alone in some of our struggles. Peter

STRIKE WHILE THE IRON IS HOT

Gary & Chris can't come to this year's Promise Keepers Event!

I'm down in Antarctica working for 8 months and brought some of the WiseChoices DVDs and booklets down, which have been helpful...
It's amazing how God works. Out of 26 people from NZ and around the world overwintering here, Chris Carswell and I are working together. I'm blown away because we just realised we were both at Promise Keepers in Tauranga last year [08]. It's no coincidence that we are both here, it's a miracle and we both recognise it and thank the Lord. Can you email some material down as there's no planes until August. It is dark 24/7 at the moment and down to - 45°C some days, plus wind chill factor.
Happy days, good cheer! Gary Brooks

Chris has given his ticket to his father, so the Carswell clan will still be represented at the Tauranga Event.
