

MAXIMISING THE EVENT

Game On 2011 Men's Event offers a significant opportunity for men in your church to progress further on their journey to biblical manhood. Game On 2011 will focus on moving men from observers to full participants in the mission that they have been called to. Don't miss this valuable opportunity to develop your Men's Ministry.

To make the most of the Event experience for your men, these are some resources that will help you.

HOT TIPS FOR GROUPS

Having a Group go together to Promise Keepers has far more benefits than just saving money on registration. The men build friendships, have shared experiences from the Event and reinforce a clear vision for the future.

The Registration team at Promise Keepers has years of experience helping Groups succeed. Get the Hot Tips for Groups sheet for:

ROADTRIP

This year's Promise Keepers Event will be even more powerful if your Group makes a Roadtrip out of it. By travelling, attending, eating and staying together, your men will move beyond acquaintance level and form real friendships that will reap dividends long after the Event.

FOLLOWING A PROMISE KEEPERS EVENT

A lot of effort and resources are invested into motivating men to attend a Promise Keepers Event. If the momentum generated is not captured quickly by suitable follow-up initiatives, that investment is at risk. Failure to have a plan to build on the success of the Event may make some men feel unsupported in the spiritual progress they have made.

It will then take the same amount of effort to make the next big event successful, because you will be starting again from scratch. Building on the success of this Event is not only logical, it is good stewardship. Don't wait until after the Event before you plan your next step.
